In a decentralized and distributed system of self-organizing intelligence, the following positions of emergent embodiment are sought:

Andro Assassins,

If we were a brothel, the Holy Spirit renders our services.

Consciousness is our sole client,

Script: 022

The delay will persist
if you refuse a controlled burn.

Ripping the bandage can be most efficacious if the pain of an easeful peel entices your stagnation.

Energetic Accounting

When you escape a slaughterhouse, do not seek refuge in a trap house.

Any alleviation of harm should not be conflated with restoration.

Breath has a charge.

No matter what you forge,
consciousness has a cost.

*The path of individuation is cash only.
The path of the herd is credit.*

Because you have a pulse,
you gon' have to pay the piper.

But remember, you always have a choice.

Intrusive Ideation: 035

Animal flesh, as a dietary staple, feels analogous to Dirty Electricity in its pheromonal and energetic distortions.

Ironically, between the longevity of those living in Blue Zones, with minimal consumption of animal flesh, and the lauded Mediterranean diet, along with the pervasive lactose intolerance of melanated folks, it seems that our culture is being herded into a colonial diet that is antithetical to our health and ecological system.

Strangely, these features of imperial dissonance become internalized markers of superiority that are exaggerated mammalian defects that hominids replicate irrespective of empirical evidence.

Contextual Mantras:

- i. Familiarity breeds contempt.
- ii. Confusion erodes accountability.
- iii. Curiosity invites predation.

Dearest Iterative Dorothy:

In transparency, I have that Scorpionic propensity to nestle at the seafloor and linger there with inordinate comfort, and yet I bear the Aquarian aversion for incessant and unrestricted access.

This is to say, I am fond of high-dose and low-frequency encounters with hypercommunicative capacity.

Also, I don't care about your affiliation as long as truth is your salvation.

Most importantly, if you're gonna be in my orbit, there will be no breadcrumbing or beating around the bush.

My skin is perpetually on the verge of a wildfire, so bushes get ate; You pick your fate.

Plausible Pontification

Although I am a philogynist and not a homosexist, I am incontrovertibly convinced that women are the sauce of life.

Patriarchy serves to cheapen the source to bargain the cost.

However, the cosmological
indemnification of this ontological orchestration is unutterable because of the requisite termination.

Scorpionic Aftercharge:

I am ready to leave the world behind, but I haven't found my cast of friends.

When love is not predicated upon the assumption of constancy or proximity, I realized that I have loved many souls during my earthly convoy.

As I tend the ripeness of my heart with exuberance, I fantasize about who will be in resonance to taste the flavors of my rainbow.

Rhetorical Reckoning

What unspoken contracts have I contorted my life
in compliance with?

The compounded cost is never known until a few decades out.

Therefore:

Intention is uninteresting if the harm is recursive.

Sustained unconscious behavioral habituation favors the benefactor.

Detectives are not needed to implement discernment.

Intimacy and proximity regulate our awareness, which calibrates our nervous system. Relational dynamics install the cognitive infrastructure that modulates our developmental process.

Time is the fuel for our embodied consciousness.

The family system you are born into can become an evolutionary gridlock.

However, every relational dynamic you grant access to your internal framework can siphon temporal, cognitive, and metabolic capacity from your embodied coherence, integration, and individuation.

Noah's Ark in the 21st millennium is Neo-consciousness, the Christos embodiment. Personality disorders, and the spectrum of cluster B traits, are psychic bugs that compromise the soul within its corporeal machine.

Your pineal gland, endocrine system, and liver and kidneys are paramount in protecting the metabolic homeostasis of your conscious vehicle.

Health requires militancy executed as self-governance in a hostile terrain that enacts passive genocide.

Decolonial Q+A #21

What differentiates a nonprofit business that sets up tables at train stations and grocery stores to collect donations, email addresses, and phone numbers from the panhandlers, who are structurally ostracized and indigent, and ask for support directly?

Moral extortion is palatable when existential fragility is protected by the illusion of participatory relief, which is the trusted con. When you consider the employees' salaries and the nonprofit's overhead costs, which diminish funds and their effective reach to address causes, the operation weaponizes structurally deployed violence to morally infect your clarity.

In summary, corporate panhandling is a respectable intermediary that commodifies suffering and destabilizes direct community support, which maintains imperial delusions of grandeur.

Ambulatory Meditations

Because I have a reflexive relationship with reciprocity, the psychic skins I adorned to attenuate the debt I lacked the capacity to mourn were foredoomed.

Co-dependency requires co-regulation. Compatibility is maintained by outsourcing self-regulation. Dysfunction is a paired charge.

Any relational proximity in identity, or parallel trauma formation to a person who has fortified themselves within a smorgasbord of internalized insecurity is an unpredictable liability.

Grammar Lessons: ūnus

A. Institutional actors of administrative and bureaucratic violence feel insulated.

B. The American Congress does not serve the people and yet it indulges in the extortion of taxation.

C. The U.S. judicial system, and its police force have habituated a selective enforcement of constitutional edicts, while perpetuating a belief in legitimacy.

Intrusive Ideation: 034

Deed theft and housing voucher termination are structural patterns of predation that are experienced by individuals who exist on opposite poles of the economic spectrum, who would require legal representation to rectify the targeted administrative violence.

What is the implication of a government that selects who to abuse by employing the state against individuals who have limited or no means of recourse?

Dispossession is structurally orchestrated by procedural mechanisms.

“Western democracy is the petri dish that nurtures entitlement while outsourcing accountability to pathological ideation and justifying why structural genocide is unavoidable.”

Quantum Web

There is a symbiotic dynamic between time and tolerance that informs the impact of exposure.

Time calibrates our sentience.

Interpretive Drift

i. Clarity is an emotional insurance policy that mitigates unintended harm.

ii. Boundaries are an immune defense mechanism that protects your hygienic sovereignty.

iii. If a relationship is a stock that is disproportionately funded, that inequity will magnify and compound.

iv. Transparent assessments are analogous to quarterly reports, which can facilitate adjustments in maintaining a shared relational framework that ensures continuity.

v. Both your dignity and integrity are worthy of the discomfort that will be mandated for you to fulfill the individuation of your soul within healthy relationships.

b. Never conflate loyalty with possession.

c. Love should not hold your evolution hostage.

d. No season of life will last forever.

e. If losing you means you fly, I am glad we grew wings together.

Tread with Vigilance

Reenactment of dysfunctional dynamics that inform our developmental socioemotional configuration becomes an involuntary compulsion.

This is not a moralistic dilemma, but an evolutionary disposition that we must hack with a forced reset.

Although the characters in an equation may shift, if the sum remains the same, the dynamic is wearing a wardrobe adjustment.

Do not bypass any stages in the sequence of behavioral deinstallation if you want to prevent stagnation that wilts into depression.

369 Detox

Direct Democracy cannot co-exist with patriarchal capitalism because misogyny and racism are the requisite scaffolds that structure the ritual performance of Electoral Democracy.

Moreover, a diseased social order cannot be remediated by tweaking the framework whilst maintaining the systemic format of entropic necrosis.

Impersonal Observations

i. Avoidance is an investment in the probability of failure.

ii. Those who are allergic to connection produce a histamine response that amplifies their self-absorption.

iii. Trust is a depreciated asset that is essential for building and sustaining relational harmony.

iv. Discernment is a devotional discipline.

a. Are you soothing your ego, or applying a salve for your soul?

b. Emotions can be a pressure point to exert control.

c. Explore the texture of your triggers; there may be information to distill within the rumination.

OUTLAWS UNITE

i. Self-governance is radical because it requires the willpower to override the mammalian impulse to comply with herd dynamics in a dysfunctional social order unequivocally rooted in ecological matricide.

ii. Trauma bonding weaponizes disempowerment to maintain evolutionary containment and to normalize an artificial predisposition for codependency, domination, and aestheticized subjugation.

iii. Only when the margins of society render the ideation of freedom fertile can we find each other to cultivate the embodied manifestation of collective sovereignty?

Playing in the Sky

If I were to interview the collective white consciousness as a cosmic interrogator, I would pose the following questions:

- Is it plausible that your commitment to negrophobia enables the structural violence that you experience through the tyranny of capitalism?
- Might the preoccupation with dehumanizing melanin-rich bodies be a diversion tactic?

It is understood that all pale and pink people are not a monolith. Among you, there are variations, and some of you are more aligned with this planet's indigenous elements. However, the antipathy for those favored by the sun is ontologically reprehensible.

The month is April, the year is 2026, and Ashley Gonzales, a Latina cop in Houston, Texas, who, in a drunken state, shared her willful and premeditated intent to legally violate the humanity of Black bodies while on duty.

We have Iran dropping Lego videos that are extraordinarily satirical psychological tools of mass clarity on social media.

We have white phosphorus being intentionally deployed in Palestine.

We have multiple genocides and civil wars happening overtly and covertly worldwide.

While a Latina Cop and former Military Personnel, amidst the Nazi rise of Immigration and Customs Enforcement, is obsessed with her hatred of Black bodies.

You must understand that this seems like an expression of spiritual retardation or possession, as though something glitched in the framework of your collective soul. And that fragmentation, that schism, is eroding the cohesion required for those of us who are sentient and seek to maintain life on Earth. Our signal is muffled because many of you are prioritizing domination in the midst of existential annihilation.

*Your gods have failed you.
Mercy is an olive tree.*

But have you blinded yourself

Decolonial Q+A #20

Why would a person identified as a close friend donate $400 to your GoFundMe to return to a Social Work Master's program that was flooded with eugenic energy, but when you lose 40 pounds, she doesn't utter a word?

This is the same woman who asked you how you wash your hair when you traveled across the country to see her in Los Angeles, at which time your hair was a mohawk with four-inch-long dreadlocks, and she's been a licensed medical doctor for about seven years.

Sadly, even if both of your native countries, Chile and Nigeria, have known civil war, dictatorship, and the cascading effects of colonialism, the melanin-deficient psyche has installed negrophobia and its abiding savior complex root application into its perceptual framework of those who are Children of the Sun.

Becoming healthy does not garner pity because autonomy interferes with the denigration of the white savior complex. Therefore, silence is violence, and a donation of $400 reinforces the delusion of white grandiosity.

Your melanin-rich body becomes a site for the projected self-regulation of genetic insecurity and internalized white inferiority. This parallels the patriarchal obsession and misogynistic policing of women and their wombs.

Script: 021

When you are explicit, blunt, and matter-of-fact, and do not hedge on the requirement for clarity when interacting with people, you repel individuals who lounge in the weaponization of ambiguity, euphemisms, and political correctness, because they require plausible deniability to enact manipulation and the invariable dysregulation of your nervous system.

Break the framework

Testimony: 03

Being a lesbian who celebrated feminism, I had tolerance for fatphobia until I understood it was negrophobia. Not that any form of dehumanization is acceptable, but I understood the appreciation for metabolic health, discipline, and self-accountability that is demonstrated. And although my obesity was the product of chemical incarceration by the psychiatric system that thought it could shackle me with the coloniality of sadistic diagnoses to constrain my psyche, I don't refute the fact that I was objectively fat.

The luxury of having an impeccable memory is that I get to observe people shapeshift, and try to rewrite the record of how their treatment of me exemplified their belief in my disposability, which gets reframed: as I didn't reach out to them; gets reframed as I thought you wanted space; gets reframed as you ditched me. In actuality, because access to me was based in their minds on a power dynamic in which they were the superior, they thought they were doing me a favor, they presumed access to my field was their bestowed privilege. And when I enacted my ability to withhold my presence to protect my soul and psyche, they lacked curiosity because they were intent upon devaluing my humanity. And when clarity was offered, they could never articulate their awareness of harm nor their remorse.

And because I retired the mammy operative identity, and I never was a maid, I've been the Matron in hiding. I find it all to be gallows humor. These women feel like expats who wear dissent in imperial garb while expecting me to misperceive their savagery. Sure, we eat pussy, but what does that have to do with the state of the world, the quality of the water and the air, the currency inflation, the dispossession of land, labor, and wombs? It becomes rather trite after you pan out and you viscerally discern that envy and white terrorism are embedded in the kindest and most generous of non-binary melanin-deficient lesbians who identify as they, them, he, and Mars.

The circus is a ruckus—I tell you. I’m too sober and regulated to excuse the cacophony of collective psychosis.

My Penny Commentary

Dating in 2026 should be a selection process to identify your convergence team, with whom your evolutionary trajectory will be accompanied.

Topic suggestions should include:

How to deinstitutionalize our perceptual framework from imperial conditioning; trading tricks on how to decolonize daily living; and how to structure subversion to be both inconspicuous and contagious.

Otherwise, any fixation on dates may be a dissociative trauma response to escape a world that is rapidly morphing into a hellscape.

You'd be better suited to manage your energy and attention, as these resources are finite and can be expensive to replenish.

“If you’re not synced with Christ Consciousness, but believe you have spiritual gifts, you may be a weapon authorized by the enemy.”

Newsflash:

We cannot employ the same legal and judicial tools that deployed imperial subjectivity across the spatiotemporal sovereignty of earth, and we who are in her sentient custodianship, to reclaim our divinely consecrated autonomy.

The hypnotic levee that restrains our embodied insurrection is breaking.

What do Munchausen Syndrome by Proxy and the Savior Complex have in common?

A keen appetite for control, asymmetrical power, avoidance, self-abandonment, virtue signaling, vulnerable narcissism, and outsourced self-regulation. Harm is either created or sought to be managed to stabilize identity by proximity to a human resource.
